

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT TRAINING FOR THE NEW YEAR? Try One of Our New Workshops.

What better time to introduce a program on ethics! Try our newest program offering, Ethical Leadership: Lessons from George Marshall. Learn from this World War II role model, later Secretary of State, and architect of the post-war recovery plan that bears his name--"The Marshall Plan." Examine your own workplace obstacles and apply lessons from a man who dealt with your challenges and more--like politics in the military, in two Cabinet posts, and in the international community.

If your budget and schedule allow for a 1-day program only, consider the re-vamped leadership program, Preparation for Leadership: Lessons from Eisenhower & D-Day. Based on our popular 3-day workshop, Lessons from Eisenhower & Churchill, this shorter program features Ike's distinct style of leadership that so ably led the Allies in the Normandy invasion in World War II. This program allows time for individuals to examine their own preparation for leadership: personal values, education as a tool for leadership, career experiences, and lifestyle choices. Then study tools that Ike used to work with difficult people and to build consensus when a group is deeply divided.

If you need a half-day program or luncheon presentation, try the inspirational Models of Motivation for Tough Times: Lessons from Gandhi, Eleanor Roosevelt, Eisenhower & Churchill. Supported by movie clips, this fast-paced session allows for group interaction and personal lessons that participants can apply immediately.

February 2014

OTHER POPULAR WORKSHOPS

Building Your Team for an Unknown Future: Lessons from Lewis & Clark

Leadership at Every Level: Lessons from Gettysburg

Teamwork in Action: Lessons from Fredericksburg

Called to Lead: Lessons from Eisenhower & Churchill

The Many Faces of Leadership: Lessons from Frederick Douglass, Clara Barton, Walt Whitman, Harriet Tubman, Matthew Fontaine Maury

Leadership for Times of Change: Lessons from Lincoln

Values-based Leadership: Lessons from Little Bighorn

Accepting New Technologies: Lessons from